

MARIAN UNIVERSITY

Master of Science in Nursing NURSING ADMINISTRATION

Promote health beyond a patient's bedside

Our 34-credit track expands the knowledge of professionals with a BSN to qualify for management positions, earn a higher salary, and play a more prominent role in patient outcomes.

Created to allow for working nurses to conveniently incorporate them into their already busy schedules, our courses are a unique blend of traditional graduate and competency-based coursework, including a 225-hour practicum course where students work directly with leaders in nursing. We impart the business, communication, and management skills needed to lead nursing teams, hospital departments, and healthcare organizations in roles such as:

- Chief Nursing Officer
- Chief Nursing Executive
- Nurse Administrator

- Director of Nursing
- Nurse Manager
- Clinic manager
- Unit manager
- Director of Quality Improvement
- Clinical Quality Manager

No on-campus time is required in our curriculum, which aligns with the American Organization for Nursing Leadership nurse manager and nurse executive competencies. With completion possible in as few as eight semesters, all didactic courses are offered 100% online and the practicum able to be completed close to home.

Learn more @ marianuniversity.edu/online

$134,440

The average salary for individuals in nursing leadership and administration in 2024

18%

Employment opportunities for medical and health services managers projected to grow 18% by 2028

8

Completion in as few as 8 semesters

APPLY TODAY

A schedule designed for you

The core classes in this track are offered in Fall and Spring.

Then, students enter our 7-week leadership and management courses. Students may select from topics that include:

- Emotional Intelligence for Leadership
- Managerial Accounting and Control
- Business Analytics
- Project Management
- Strategic Health Care Management
- Health Care Policy
- Legal Aspects of Health Care Administration

How do I become a nurse administrator?

Completing this track is a great place to start. We'll prepare you for leadership positions through our:

- 34-credit curriculum
- 100% online didactic courses
- 15-week core courses
- 7-week flexible courses
- 225-hour practicum course
- No on-campus time required

Apply today

Visit marianuniversity.edu/apply, select Adult and Online Studies Application.

Be sure to explore your financial aid options at FAFSA.gov — school code 003861.

MARIAN UNIVERSITY

OFFICE OF ADULT AND ONLINE STUDIES

45 S. National Ave. | Fond du Lac, WI 54935 | 920.923.7650 | adult_online@marianuniversity.edu

Founded 1936 • Sponsored by the Congregation of Sisters of St. Agnes

Learn more @ marianuniversity.edu/online