

Master of Science in Nursing FAMILY NURSE PRACTITIONER TRACK

Prepare to do more – for your career and your patients

This 46-credit track is designed to prepare busy adult learners for a career providing care for families and individuals of all ages. Offered in a full-time or part-time plan with a combination of face-to-face and online nursing coursework, you'll be positioned to succeed in a growing field — nurse practitioner careers will grow 31% by 2026, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

This program was created to increase flexibility and reduce on-campus time. If full time, you can expect to spend about 40 hours per week on your education, and our 15-week semester provides a more traditional educational experience. Students like our 7-week summer courses, small class sizes, quick faculty feedback, and in-depth topic discussion. We'll help you:

- Earn your degree conveniently
- Think critically about new topics

- Absorb and reflect on our innovative lessons
- Learn through robust online and on-campus course content
- Take time for scholarly inquiry

Our didactic coursework and preceptor-supervised, faculty-guided clinical practicum experiences will help you prepare to practice as Family Nurse Practitioners in primary care settings.

The education you want, when you want it

This 46 credit track is offered in Fall and Spring in a 15-week format with 7-week accelerated courses available in summer.

How you'll learn

New students may choose to start in fall or spring. Courses are offered in both online and hybrid formats. Our on-campus (face-to-face) classes are offered at our new state of the art nursing facilities in the Stayer Center and typically meet every other week. Schedules are set at the beginning of our program so you can plan your life.

What you'll learn

Students will take courses covering topics such as:

- Practice management for the APRN
- Advance diagnostic skills and reasoning
- Advanced pathophysiology
- Healthcare systems leadership and quality improvement
- Health promotion and disease prevention in populations
